DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION.

ONE YEAR..

The Democratic Convention for Andersou County will convene at the Court House on Saturday, the 22nd of May inst., at eleven o'clock a. m. A full attendance of the delegates elected is earnestly desired. If any Clubs failed to elect delegates on last Saturday as requested, the president and executive committee of such Clubs will please proceed at once to call a meeting of the Club and elect the proper number of delgates to the County Contention. The present County Executive Committee is requested to meet at the INTELLIGENCEP. office at ten o'clock on Saturday morning, the 22nd inst., to attend to such business as may be necessary.

E. B. MURRAY. County Chairman.

President Hayes will be known in his tory as the vetoing President. His veto messages are about the only things in his administration that have distinguished him. They have attracted attention in consequence of his inconsistent position, and because he has never vetoed any other than good measures.

Although the wheat crop has the rust so badly in this part of the country, it is some consolation to know that it is not general. The crop in Europe this year will be a splendid one, and the crop all over the United States is put down as simply immense. Under this state of things the cheapest food ever known is months following.

The New York World says: "The Republicans are getting no more harmonious very fast. If only one-half of what the Sherman papers say of Blaine, and the Blaine papers say of Grant, and the Grant papers say of Blaine and Sherman is at all true, all those distinguished Republicans should be candidates for at least three terms apiece in the penal institutions of the country."

A vote at the Hahnemann Hospital Fair in New York was on last Thursday for the most popular Presidential candidate, with the following result: Bayard 163, Grant 131, Blaine 75, Edmunds 17. Sherman 5, Jewett 7, Tilden 3, J. S. Phelps 11, Seymour 2, and E. B. Washburne 3. A gold headed cane was to be presented to the most popular candidate, and Mr. Bayard was the winning man. "Straws show which way the wind blows."

The imprisonment of Dennis Kenrney in San Francisco for sedition has already id a wholesome effect in California. The asperities of the Eand Lot party have greatly subsided, and their meetings, which are very much less frequent than formerly, are comparatively orderly. By the time Kearney serves out his six months sentence, he will no doubt be greatly mollified himself. At least, his discretion will be improved, and a wholesome dread of the law and its jails will probably keep him out of any further Judge Mercer, of Ponusylvania, told Judge Jeremiah Black that he ought to be a Republican, whereupon the latter teplied, "If there was no hereafter I would join the Republican party at once, Nothing deters me but the fear of hell." This is an excellent picture of the Republican party in this country. Judge Black does not describe the party, but simply gives by implication the result of belonging to such a party, and leaves the reader to infer its characteristics. It is the party of fraud, corruption and pillage.

A correspondent in this Issue, of the INTELLIGENCER suggests Hon. James L. Orr, of Anderson, for the nomination for Congress by the Democracy of the Third District. The nomination is a good one, and the reasons suggested for it are worthy of favorable copylderation. In addition, we may add that we think the County of Anderson is entitled to a representative in Congress. This was one of the foremost counties in the redemption of the State, and we have received no of the State, and we have received no recognition in the way of promotion of of our citizens. We do not mention this by way of complaint, but simply to show how reasonable in the request for the Congressional numbers to be selected from our midsh. Mr. Orr is fully competent our midsh. Mr. Orr is fully competent to the control of the c tent for the position indicated, and if closted will make a record alike creditable to Streatf and his District,

The Washington correspondent of the Spring field Republican puts it thus: "For a President who has signed appropriation bill after in propriation bill after in propriation bill that contained political riders without complaint, and who this very day canounces his signature of the Army Appropriation bill, which has a political sider that many hopoliticans consider in invasion of his constitutional power over the army, to want this bill because it contains general legislation does really seem rainer absurd." This is cleverly put. The independent Republicans are beginning to stant use of the vote for partisan purpures. The Republican party will succeed by gain my votes by this strogant comes of the President on questions epon which for once voted for just such measures as he now votes. Positions may appro-

The tree condition of the colored man in the South as a political power is beginthing to be realized at the North. The eabody Board, thou which there are a namber of prominent Republicans, in a recent report, say : "The colored population of the United States was ascertained by the census of 1870 to be, in round numbers, four and a half millions. At the present date it probably exceeds five millions. If we assume that of these ne-seventh are voters, we have the fact that there are more than seven hundred suffrage, and yet, in the mass, are incapable of discreetly exercising it." This is exactly the situation. Negro suffrage proved the bane of the South when first forced upon us, b since we have learned how to manage and control it, the evil has been turned into a political advantage. It has increased our national representation and influence without giving us serious incorvenience now. In other words, it is the stick with which Republican fanatics sought to chastise the South. We have taken the stick from them, and will, before we stop, break the head of Republicanism with it. The Republicans may regret their mistake in giving the negro the right of suffrage, but they cannot remedy it. It would require an amendment of the national contitution, to which the South will never consent, and which is, therefore, impossible. We will now give the Republicaus the opportunity of repenting at leisure what they did in haste, The veto message of President Hayes, which we publish elsewhere, is to us an indication that the plan of campaign inended to be pursued by the Republicans in the coming canvass is to be an aggressive and tyrannical one in such Southern States as may be selected to make up the quota of electoral votes necessary to the election of their candidate for the Presidency. The only rider on the Appropriation Bill for United States Marshals was one providing that Deputy United States Marshals, to attend the election polls, should hereafter be appointed by he United States Circuit Judge, in equal numbers from each political party. This is the subject matter in the bill to which Mr. Hayes objects. It is a perfectly fair provision, and the only opposition the Executive can have to its becoming a law is, that it takes the appointment of Deputy Marshals from the Executive Department and gives it to the Judicial Department of the government, with a proviso that each political party shall be equally represented by United States Deputy predicted for next September, and the Marshals at the polls. This would prevent the partisan use of these officers, and, therefore, the President vetoes the bill. He wishes to retain this element of power and coercion for his party, and his only reason for wishing to retain it is that he expects to use it. From these reasons we believe the Republican programme in this year's election is to overawe the people by Marshals selected from the Republican party, and thereby keep the colored vote solid, and deter the whites from making a vigorous canvags, as far as such a course can deter them. If the President, however, expects any such impediment to interfere with Democratic success in the South, he is greatly mistaken. The negroes are politically demoralized, and cannot any longer be rallied to victory by the understrappers sent down here from Washington for the purpose of stirring them up. The South is Democratic, and all the force and fraud and perjury which the Republican party can command will not prevent a

Grant's Embankment in New York.

ALDANY, N. Y., May 6.

In the Senate this morning, Mr. Jacobs (Dem.) introduced a premable and resolution, declaring that the "teachings of the fathers of the Republic, with their holy fear of monarchs and thrones, have given existence to an unwritten law which decrees that the same person shall not occupy the high office of President more than two terms," and that "there are serious fears that one of the two great parties of the country contemplates the violation of that unwritten law; iterefore, resolved: That it is the sentiment of the State of New York that this unwritten law which has the sacred endorsement of Washington and Jefferson, and which has been recognized and obsyed by the illustrious line of Presidents who have succeeded them, should be maintained in all its integrity, and that no person should be considered eligible for the office of President for a third term."

After some animated discussion the resolutions were tabled by a vote of 18 to 7.

Mr. Woodin, Republican, rose to a question of privilege, and read an extract from the New York Sun, saying that he, with others, had agreed to break up the unit rule and vote against Grant in the Chicago Convention: He denied this statement in the most unreserved manner. He said he would go to Chicago to give voice to a constituency as patriotic as any in the Commonwealth. The Unica Convention had only ratified his selection to the Chicago Cenvention. If bound by any instructions they must be derived from the constituency he represented. His convictions were clear, the committee.

The Utica Convention had only ratified his selection to the Chicago Convention. If bound by any instructions they must be derived from the constituency he represented. His convictions were clear, strong and unmixed with doubt. While he awarded Gen. Grant all praise, he viewed the bare possibility of his nomination with concern. The choice of his district was James G. Elaine, with whom to lead the column he felt assured of success. He said: "I believe he will be nomic 'and. Each hour exhibits his popularity."

Mr. Halbort asked if Woodin had accepted the position of delegate and now proposed to step aside and lot another man go there and vote for James G. Blaine. Woodin said he had stated at the State Convention that his choice was not Grant. His alternate should voice the sentiment of his constituency.

Mr. Ecssions said the sentiments expressed by Woodin here his own, and the views of his own constituency.

A CONGRESSIONAL NOMENATION.

Editor Anderson Intelligencer : We desire through the columns of your paper to present the name of Hon. JAMES L. ORR Es one suitable to be placed in nomination by the Bemocratic party for representative in Congress from the Third District of this State. Mr. Orr is an able and fellable gentleman, who would exercise a strong and wholesome influence in Congress. -Prudent, and yet firm, he has the qualities necessary to succeed in the stisfactory disthousand colored men in the United charge of the duties of the post for which States who are clothed with the right of he is suggested; ...nd having grown up since the war, he would be able to contend against the opposition to the South as a section without the prejudice and partisan crimination which is so often encountered by older men from this section. This is the District which was represented in Congress before the war by the late Hon. James L. Orr, deceased, who was Speaker of the House of Representatives, and whose record in that body would give prominence to his son should he be elected to the seat once so ably filled by his father. Mr. Orr has served two terms in the South Carolina Legisls. ture, and his influence and experience there are sufficient guarantees of his suitability for member of Congress

BARMONY IN PENNSYLVANIA. The Reystone State Democracy Mak Ready for the Fray.

HARRISBURG, PA., April 29. The Democratic Corrention was called to order at half-past / o'clock. The special committee on credentials shortly appeared and made their report.

The committee on resolutions reported as follows:

Resolved, First. That we the Demo cratic party of Pennsylvania, in Conven-tion assembled, renew our vows of fidelity to the fundamental principles proclaimed and practiced by the Illustrious men who settled our free institutions and founded the Democratic party to protect and preserve them.

Second. That the just powers of the Federal Union, the rights of the States and the liberties of the people are vital parts of one harmonious system, and to save each part in its whole Constitutional vigor is to save the life of the nation.
Third. That the Democratic party maintains, as it ever has maintained, that the military are and ought to be in all things subordinate to the civil authorities. It denies, as it ever has denied, the right of the Federal Administration to keep on foot at the general expense a standing army to invade the States for political purposes without regard to Con-stitutional restrictions, to control the people at the polls, to protect and en-courage a fraudulent count of votes, or standing army to invade the States for inaugurate candidates rejected by the majority.

Fourth. That the right to a free ballot is the right preservative of all rights, and is the only means of peacefully redressing grievances and reforming abuses. The presence at the polls of a regular military force and of a host of hireling officials, claiming power to arrest and officials, claiming power to arrest and imprison citizens without warrant or hearing, destroys all freedom of elections and upturns the very foundation of self-government. We call upon all good citgovernment. We call upon all good cit-izens to aid us in preserving our institu-tions from destruction by these imperial methods, by supervising the right of suf-frage and coercing the popular will, and in keering the way to the ballot box open and free as it was to our fathers, in removing the army to a safe distance open and ree as it was to our interes, in removing the army to a safe distance when the people assemble to express their sovereign pleasure at the polls, and in securing obedience to their will when egally expressed by their votes.
*Fifth. That Rutherford B. Hayes hav-ritth. That Rutherford B. Hayes having been placed in power against the well-known legally expressed will of the people, is the representative of a conspiracy only, and his claim of right to surround the ballot boxes with troops and deputy marshals to intimidate and obstruct electors and his marshals to intimidate and obstruct electors and his marshals to intimidate and obstruct electors and his marshals to intimidate and obstruct electors. struct electors, and his unprecedented use of the veto to maintain this claim, is an Democratic success throughout the South insult and menace to the country.

Sixth. That the Democratic party, as gold and silver and of paper convertible into coin.

Seventh. That we are opposed to the system of subsidies by the General Government and to the appropriation of public moneys or credits to any object but the committee.

Mr. Randall hoped that the instructions to vote as a unit would not be given.

The question was then put to the vote and Snowden's amendment was carried by 125 to 122 amid great cheering from the Randall party.

The resolutions as amended were then adepted.

The resolutions as amended were then adopted.

After the election of the State electors and delegates to Cincinnati and nominations of several State officers, the Convention adjourned.

The delegation to Cincinnati will probably stand 38 against and 20 for Tilden's nomination. These are Senator Wallace's figures, and they are not controverted by the Tilden men.

- Under the postal laws, if you spoil a stamped wrapper or envelope you can have it redeemed at its face value at the post-office. When postal cards were in-troduced postmasters were instructed to redeem such as were spoiled before using at the rate of 4 cents in stamps for every 5 cents in face value of the cards. Many postal cards are spoiled in printing, others in direction, while many printed cards are simply timised. These can all be exchanged at the rate mentioned. A stranger appeared at the Louisville Post-Of-fice last week with one or two thousand of these postsi-cards per day for several days in succession. The cards were redays in succession. The cards were redeemed, but there were so many the stamp clerk inquired, to satisfy his curiosity, where the stranger got them. He said he was buying them up at various business houses, paying 40 and 50 cents per hundred for the useless cards. Some times he paid as high as 60 cents, and offered one firm 70 cents for a large lot, but it was refused. He had evidently been operating in Indianapolis recently. but it was refused. He had evidently been operating in Indianapolis recently, as he had a large number of cards with Indianapolis firms printed on them. Dur-ing the three or four days here he pre-sented five or six thousand for redemp-tion and made a profit of about $25.

reported to the House. That portion re-lating to sugar was agreed to as a sepa-rate measure, and will also be fav. rably reported to the House in a separate bill. The remaining provisions of the tariff bill proper, which were agreed to to-day, are as follows:

Salt stricken from the bill entirely, the duty therefore remaining at the present duty therefore remaining at the present rate—12 cents per hundred pounds in bags, 8 cents per hundred pounds in bulk. Upon screws of all descriptions the duty was placed at 5 and 7 cents, instead of 5 and 8 cents per pound, as agreed upon yesterday.

The duty upon wood-pulp was reduced from 20 to 10 per cent. advalorem; upon juta butts from $6 to $3 per ton; upon unmanufactured flax and all other fibres or fibrous material for the manufacture of paper from $20 to $25 to a uniform rate of $10 per ton; upon sized or glued paper for printing, from 25 to 20 per cent.; upon unsized paper for books and newspapers exclusively, from 20 to 15 per cent.; upon manufactures of paper, or of which paper is a component part not otherwise provided for, from 35 to 25 per cent. upon ploughs, harrows and spades, shovels, hoes and other like articles, of which iron or steel is a component mate-

THE STEWART GRAVE ROBBERS,—The rumor is again renewed in New York that proceedings are likely to be taken soon against the men who stole the body of the late A. T. Stewart. The present story is that an accomplice has confessed, and that eight persons, whose whereabouts are known to detectives, have been indicted by the grand jury. It is further said that the repentant accomplice is now dead, and that this fact has increased the difficulties in the way of the prosecution.
